

Laser Light Show glitched.

Hiya,

Just informing you all that currently laser light show if it wasnt already too op is now bugged aswell. Everytime i was getting shot by lls it was making me hover just above ground level, I could still move freely but what this means is that your crosshair acts like your in mid aid and you cannot aim to save your life!

Rather frustrating when a good player uses it, as basically you cannot aim back at them. Who knows maybe if you buy a machine gun and spray your ass off you may fluke a bullet to their head! But its highly unlikely.

Would be good to get this resolved though.

Cheers

Ahhh M3ntoz.... thats rather frustrating lol, as now it seems that Zenmonk is also doing the same thing....

I can see at some stage everything will need to go right back to the basics, followed by adding each race one by one and physically testing each one to see which are glitched and then either fixing or removing the problems...

I mean I dont play LLS... but I do on occasion play zenmonk.... and with this new effect i would say it would be very unfair for anyone i shoot and hit, and that is not an OP race.
