i've recently started playing CSS again after what seems like ages (prob only a year) and i'm getting bored of this other game i play and i think it's time for me to start playing css again, some ppl already now me from the WCS server;

|TBW| Tomsta

Sgt. Angel

Note; the |TBW| isn't a clan it's a community, so they don't mind if i switch

if your thinking of a competitive clan, then we are inactive as people are moving onto other games and need more for a team. but i dont know whos up for what as its been quiet on the western front since black ops has come out 😊 just thought id give you a heads up, if we have enough people intrested then we will surly come out of inactivity. just gottta find the people atm.
