my demo and didn't come off though, so I have no evidence but my word. However, wallhacking is really hard to demo anyway as it is hard to reveal when done by an experienced player. If this is cause to end the ban then fine but I for one will be looking to get another demo. Some of the things he was doing like leaving a defuse to travel to where the t was (far away) was a joke and out of ear shot. How did he know where players were all the time when he was the last map so they were not on radar? This is the preferential hack of an experienced player because it is so hard to demonstrate. I know what I saw...

when new evidence (demo) is here. we can take a new look at it but before that time have fun playing anubis

I would like to add that as an admin I have seen him on other servers doing the same stuff, this is not for me an isolated incident.
