Yeah, It's actually because you don't get XP from anyone that's a lower level than you (at least that's what I've noticed anyway) which is a bit odd

Oh, i didn't even notice the fact of not getting exp from someone lower than you, i must say though because on the last server you could level to max level on a race with about 20 kills from a bot, i suggest having less exp given from them, maybe just the set 35 amount? 😊
EDIT: This would require having the bots at level one, i don't know if this would change the difficulty of the bots, but even then having them at there max race level is better than level 75+.

And if possible, i did mention this to react, but could we have an auto swap teams when they win so many in a row, this will stop them from having one overpowered team and one "noob" team. I have noticed on the old server that this has caused a lot of people to leave the server when they have no chance of winning.

Thanks.

But that's still unfair when I get put on the other team :O 🤔
Also I think admin's will need to have access to change peoples team so it makes it easy to muddle the teams and make them fair. The thing is that, it happens, some people are better than others and sometimes its hard to make the teams fair in a game. Sometimes you just gotta stick in there and deal with dieing a lot 🤔
Or just go skilled sniper, that normally works

The bot's level thing will happen anyway since it is like that on the normal wcs server unless something has changed in the past month 🤔
(it wouldn't be surprising if it had 🤔)

As far as I know, on WCS #1, you get levels from Bots, but on #2 you don't. It is kinda annoying not being able to level when no-one else is on anyway

Yes it's annoying, because, i guess, all of the players on WCS#1 dont know anything about the new server. so advertising would be good 🙄

Remmember its still a trial at the moment. changed so bots give XP and XP rewards for killing people is the same as it has ever been. people lower than you still give you xp.

But i just mean when a team wins 10 rounds in a row to mix everyone up in both teams, not just swap one or 2 people.

And i noticed that for the 20 or 50 exp it costs $1500 but the 100 exp costs $2500. Shouldn't it be that there is a chance to get more exp from buying the first one if you buy it twice. so shouldn't it be more like 20 or 50 exp for $1000.

My Maths:

$1000 x2 = $2000,

$2000 = 40 exp or 100 exp

$2500 x 1 = $2500,

$2500 = 100 exp

I believe that the exp buying should be more like this than what is it now because currently it is

£3000 = 40 exp or 100 exp

Or

$2500 = 100 exp

No reason to even have the first one in if it stays this way.

Thanks 🍷
