

Hacked typing

Posted by Demoniac - 20 Aug 2011 14:25

---

So I was responding to a mate, and right after I was done it claims I wrote something else with a link to youtube.

I don't know what has happened, but I don't like it and I don't want to spread random links that might be viruses to fellow members.

Help greatly appreciated, I'm gonna DL a anti-virus program to see if there's a virus somewhere in my comp.

EDIT: link goes to a site with some dude from the netherlands who's posted lots of css videos. Seems undangerous to me but still want it out...

Um, that first sentence ain't making no sense... xD

ShouldI not get an antivirus program, or was it my spelling? 🙄

I'll give you the first link 😊

Ah... Hehe 😊

Thing is, I have antivirus, just isn't installed cuz I haven't been able to locate the files... xD

Gonna fix it really soon tho 😊

Now, I'm freaked out.

cuz that adress is a cookie, which my anti spyware program found and deleted 4 days ago...

What can I do to prohibit spamming invoulontary youtube links? 😊

Um, donno... I just happened to see it when in console. And since my antispysware reacted to it on my computer as spyware I kinda freaked out 🤪

Alright, thanks.
