You were reported to me due to verbal abuse towards a regular member which continued despite being asked to calm down and despite being muted a number of times.

If you could explain why this might be the case I will look into it further.

However, we do not tollerate mic spamming generally and especially not using the mic to harrass other players.

i think i know which member reported this ... but my actions were made after his actions of swearing and saying bad things about my mother and family etc ... they were also calling me a noob for using a race that they did not like me playing ... I dont think his or my actions were aproprate but still ... If someone is going to disrespect me .. I will most probably end up Disrespecting them ...

He Has also Threatend to kill me and my mother , family EtC

(This is something I WILL NOT Stand for)

I will check this out although I don't believe this to be the case.

I think there is a glitch with the rapscallion race which you continued to take advantage of despite being asked to quit it. I don't play WCS myself but I think raspSCALLION is a knife only race but the glitch allows you to use a weapon. I think this was the race you were using at the time? I'm not sure calling you a noob should result in the type of abuse you gave back.

I will look into it further.

I can say that the race i was using was Vagalion

Which 2 days ago was NOT Glitched ... so it was just Knife only and also ...

Rapscallion was not bugged 2 days ago when i was playing

I have the logs and will be reviewing them.

Please add me on steam: time2dream.

I'll be online later.

Cheers,

DS.
