

Lag On Server?

Posted by Risky_Pwnz - 29 Jun 2009 15:13

Its 29 june and every one seems to be experiancing a lot of lag on the server are the admins doing any thing to the server to create this lag or is it just a player lagging the whole system|?? 🤔

Thank you for the report - we will look into this asap.

It could be network issues with the host.

Oh nearly forgot that there was a guy who's ping was 400 and increasing but he wasent auto kicked :/ so it might of been him that pinged every 1 but seriously man we need adminz in there, to lay the rules down once in a while like coz its kinda chaotic eg, people cursing each other and so on and so fourth. 🇩🇪

There's always plenty people on at night but most people work or go to school during the day lol hence why there's not a lot of admins on!

I don't have school on Tuesdays and I'm generally not busy atm (end of exams and entering new year with only 1 lesson being carried on xD) so I'll pop in to spectate it a bit and see what's going on

There were indeed 2 bandwidth spikes, 40 Mbit spikes in a few minutes, one inbound and one outbound to be exact. These were due to our 3 tf2 servers updating and after that the backup of our gaming servers.

As you can see although some of the admins are not playing on the servers they are always working.

I know this should be done at night, but me and Tunes need to sleep too so some stuff needs to be done during the day when we have some time for it 🙄

Anyway, sorry for the trouble it may have caused, but its for the better 🙄
