The best way to upload it is here or in Sourcebans page mate. Do a zip file of it to make it smaller.

I'd like to know that too... Is there any way of doing it? I mean it's fine and dandy making it into a zip file for people to use, but is there any way to get it on here in video format?

I know you can put it in youtube (which I have no idea how to do anyway) but surely there must be a more simple way of doing things

Then you would have to use something like Fraps to make a movie out of it, then edit it on another video editing prog then upload it to youtube and use the "youtube" button we have on the posting form and then put the url inside it.

We have no way of putting movies directly on the forums.
