nah tried this before , people complain about keep getting swapped and they get killed when they don't realise.

but auto assign might be a idea .

I think that is a fantastic idea because it would mean the terms would be more even instead of everyone join a really good players team. Only problem with this is that the auto-assign might throw 2 really good people on the same team and 2 people who don't play much on the other team and then you can't even change to even the teams 😊
