

Hey Application for admin

My name is sperify, im 23 years old and would like to be considered for admin.

many of u may have seen me on wcs server.. since im using abit to much time on css

I would really appreciate it if u guys consider giving me admin responsibilities on ur warcraft server. i personally think i would be usefull as admin since im on way to many hours per day and im fair and open minded person

Here is why:

- I will say im a experienced wcs player that have played this mid for a couple of years now. and know the most rules about races and maps

- I am mature and will only use abilities when absolutely necessary.

- I am a regular on the server and am friendly with most of the other regulars.

I believe it is important to have admins on the server regularly, to minimize the disobeying of the rules and exploitation of glitches which i often see.

some of u may know me as a member of kokaine.

anyways thx for ur time to read this and happy fragging ppl

Apart from the fact that he can't aim (probably coz hes in kokaine 🤔), I remember sperify being a nice lad who is always a pleasant member of the warcraft community, and regularly informed me when any rule breaking occurred.

I think you have quite some potential and like the others say you're friendly.

But we already have 4 ~ 5 active admins on the server and I'm not sure if we're really looking for more at the moment... ?

Regards
