Hya guys!!

First of all i want to thank Vogon for letting me be a watcher!! its great!! luv the responsibility!

there is one more thing that i would like to be able to do on the WCS server, occasionally, when i play at school in the mornings with only a few people, we are sometimes on a map that is rubbish with a few people, and there aren't enough people to initiate a rock the vote!!

Vogon, would it be possible to either, let watchers have the ability to in initiate map votes???,

or can you reduce the minimum amount of players required to initiate a RTV??

Thanks mate!!

you can play CS:S at school?!

Wish I could've done that at my school. We weren't even allowed a feckin vending machine!

Internet was yet a thing of the future when I was at school 🤔

Games were allowed only at the students room pc (good old 8086 with powerfull 2megs of ram.... oh the joy!) 🤔

I know, i'm off topic, on topic, i'm sure thats a thing that can be done.

From school, I remember Horace doing something on the BBC's 🤔

That and fractals on the Arhcimedes - we only had a few of those though 🤔

Can you imagine a suite of BBC's and trying to teach 'IT' - what a hard graft - all we did was send each other messages behind teachers back - of course, in those days there was no tracking unless a teacher was looking right at the monitor ...

Maybe my memory serves bad but I'm sure there was some basic version of Horace for the BBC (skiing).

All I can find though is this. ..

For those who are too young to know - THIS WAS CUTTING EDGE 🤔

i think watchers should have ability to put a random map vote..quite often ppl ask me if i can change map, and since i cant they just get bored of some maps that are way to big for 3-4 players and just leave... happily enough this dont happen to often

Off topic: gotta love how this thread is going offtopic just because of one sentence

Happens all the time around here... 🤔

Anyway, will work on adding map votes to watchers.
