

I think it is about time...

that we, the TWK community do a SC2 Tournament. I think it would be best to do in a knock out format over a period of weeks that way it allows people to play any time during the week that both players agree upon. This way we can find out who is at the top of the food chain, hopefully not big head (you know who you are) 😊 I was planning to run it but if anyone else wants to step up, they are welcome. Also ideas will be welcome and obviously we need to see how many people that are interested first also before anything is done.

I am thinking that it will be in a knockout format over a period of weeks (dependant on how many are interested)

The time of the matches can be arranged by the two players involved but will have to be played sometime from monday - saturday to give me sunday to do the upcoming fixtures for the next week. Would be nice to know when the match will be played though as others in the community can watch or cheer yous on. A simple post on the forums indicating time when it will be played will be fine. xD

The game will be 1v1, on faster speed setting, no handicaps and on the map which is chosen for that week. Spectators are welcome to watch the match but obviously no hints and tips over ts3,steam etc.

If the result of the game can be sent to me over steam, that would be good, if not post it on here.

So if 8 people sign up there should be a total of four games the first week, four the second week and two the third week, if we do the losers bracket. If not it will be four matches week 1, two matches week 2 and one match week 3.

This is all that i can think of at the moment, obviously suggestions on improvements and tweaking are welcome. I tried to make it viable for all players to be able to play, active and not so active by not giving a fixed time. I am also thinking of a losers bracket aswell, so if their is 8 players, the first four who get knocked out go into their own knockout. Just say if you think i am being retarded, just thought it would be quite fun and generate some banter and creates a way where we play against each other competitively and can win bragging rights properly 😊

Players signed up:

Gazza

Johan

Lee

Tin

Eski

Vogon

Ncore

Dynamical

Vapour

Dreamstate

Liger

Al Asif

How about everyone do their 5 1v1 matches to see wich league they get into and then put ppl who end up in the same league against each other in the first game. That way you would face someone with similar experiance in your first match. More fun for all and less obvious who will win. Just an idea.

I know Im in gold but I think my skill is Silver/Bronze league tbh. Cause Im in bronze in 2v2 and im not the best in that team.

Err my thoughts are that it will be in a league format due to the number of players which have signed up. There will be two separate leagues consisting of 5 players. both leagues will be mixed ability. This means players get to play four matches each then when its finished there will be the final matches, this is where the players play the opponents in the other league who came in the same place as them. first vs first, second vs second and so on. With respect to whom goes in what group, i have a general idea of the skill of most of the contestants except for Vogon. So i will hopefully be able to create the two leagues with mirrored ability. I will get working on the leagues when i get some time.

I think a late september date(or later) for this would be best as Blizzard has announced patch 1.1 in mid Sep. Would be a bit unfair if said patch came in the middle of the league with changes that might have helped some.
