I play on the wcs server nearly every day.

I hate protoss in SC2.

For the Swarm

I don't play Star Craft (if that is where you are talking about) but maybe I could give it a try another day.

The vote has already been made 2 days ago and the result was clear: We would like to see you more around on the forums and be active on them before we let you become a Community member.

Thx for the application and you can try another time.

I hope to see you still around on the servers.
