

Help!!

I got a new computer and I am trying to log into TWK forums there. I'm already signed in to this one on this laptop. But I don't think I registered, I think I was just made a member...so I don't think I have a password. If I do have a password, is there a way to change/see what it is on my profile? I clicked the Forgot my Password on my new laptop and did the verification stuff. I type in the token to get a new password and it's not working! I need help please!
