

how about a survival server with 2 factions

So i came up with this idea for minecraft.

what if we get a minecraft server with survival without cheats (so where you have to work for everything). and get 2 factions going that can fight with each other. like some kind of castle wars.

both factions can make a castle and later on defend it. where everybody can use what they gained trough playing the game. so that we can have castle sieges and that everybody can just equip their armor and swords/bows and get this little war going 😊 so it would be something like.

nobody is allowed to pvp when it's light. so it's a bit calm and you can chop your tree in peace.

underground pvp is always allowed. so mining is a bit more intense since you could get ganked at every moment.

castle sieges 1ns a week/2 weeks.

probably forgot something but will just post that later ^^

If anyone puts up front a specially designed map to play, I can put that map on the server and lock all commands...

I do like the idea, implementation takes time I don't have atm. soz well thh we don't need a special map 😊

I mean we can just make this huge arena near the spawn and use the random world for the normal playing since we have to mine our own stuff for armor and weapons to fight in the castle wars and let's not forget you have to mine the stone yourself to build the castle 😊

This seems like a awesome idea!

Do you have anyone that can host the server? I could gladly help putting up the rules 😊
