

Minecraft requests

I have gotten the question several times from more than one person if the commands to make spheres and such could be allowed for builders. I don't use them myself but what do you guys think about allowing that for builders? It's a freebuild server so maybe build commands should be available?

I think it's a good idea but you can build it out of several materials right? so I'd say if there is a way to restrict the use of lava and water with a sphere

Ok boys and girls, since you ask for money, I can give out the required permissions 🤖

Now the following commands are also available to builders

/time day (mostly know about this)

//hcyl (hollow cylinder)

//cyl (solid cylinder)

//sphere (solid sphere)

//hsphere (hollow sphere)

//undo (undo?) 🤖

The undo function only works if the edit was made by worldedit

Abuse of this commands will get the abuser banned and the commands removed.

(and I know who does what)
