Oh yeah, new mob for minecraft 1.8

Weird is one of them is holding (with both hands) a block... I wonder what's coming

I had to enhance and raise the gamma a lot, notch did it on purpose and took the screenshot in very dark ambient... oh well i think they are like builders...

the block they hold match the once on the ground so i think they will spawn on that block maybe they will drop that block on death and i think they can place that block or just throw it at the player 🤔

maybe they are the nice and shiney kind during day and build a cute house for you and them to live in 🐟

or they will just block you in and set it on fire or throw lava in it 🐟

Well, they said they include npc villages. Maybe the villagers are friendly during day but turn to that and hostile during night?

i'd love to see minecraft singleplayer more populated if it be mobs or whatever that would be great and give alot more diversity to minecraft i know there's already mods out there that will make minecraft more inhabited tried it out and i loved it 😊

P.S : ill try to find that mod and post it up some people might enjoy a more populated single player minecraft 😊
