Daily Minecraft "WTF!?"

_____

Every day I log into the forums I'll be posing a vid/image of something made in minecraft that most people would just look at and say: "... No way... wtf!?"

If you've seen them before you've seen them before but I've not been on minecraft for around half a year and there have been some significant changes. It's obvious that alot of these will probably end up being redstone circuitry of some kind. I've not ever been that good with redstone and even failed at making two iron doors open at the same time! So seeing things like a 16-bit CPU on minecraft that even made it into game site web news was pretty epic.

For my frist daily 'WTF!?' I give you this little vid:

Ladies and Gentlemen, Noobs and Nooblets, I give you a redstone image machine!
