just a suggestion that maybe give twk-p the right to kick people? a nice way to reward people who have stayed loyal to the server for a long time and a realistic title for other players to aspire to, because lets be honest, no noob from mc is gonna be made a mod 🤔

perhaps make them low powered mods then? (but only like 2 of them) with the ability only to kick

can get on here chiffy 🤔

Well if I'm honest, not a fan of griefing-allowed survival, because I hate the idea of building a load of stuff up, and then an idiotic child blowing it to smithereens in the space of a minute. I prefer creative

Maybe the lack of active mods could have something to do with that some of those mods invited a trusted community member over to see their place and then later found out that they had been grieved and raided 😊

They then got tired of all the childish attitude and that ppl on said server prefere to grief instead of being friendly. They then decided to leave and look for a friendlier server..

Could have something to do with it, but what do I know 😊

And dont tell me griefing is allowed, cause I know that, but I doubt these griefers traveled 8000+ blocks across 2 oceans and just stumbled upon our little island..

Doesnt matter who it was, the damage has been done and the move is completed.
