

twk-p

just a suggestion that maybe give twk-p the right to kick people? a nice way to reward people who have stayed loyal to the server for a long time and a realistic title for other players to aspire to, because lets be honest, no noob from mc is gonna be made a mod 🤔

they found u johan :O...was it maxmekker10 -_-

Doesnt matter who it was, the damage has been done and the move is completed.

sucks

Yes it does, because I liked it on the server and some of the players where really nice.

Maybe the lack of active mods could have something to do with that some of those mods invited a trusted community member over to see their place and then later found out that they had been grieved and raided 😞

Well, I'm not going to go ahead and lie.. the reason I don't play the TWK MC Server (much) anymore is that a friend was setting up a server and needed a hand, I decided to help and eventually I got asked to be an admin/co-owner type thing and then... we began getting the server more popular etc, we have quite a lot of players and are in the top 250 servers on the server list.

so, that server takes up most of my minecraft time now, also the TWK server was getting boring, every time I went on I always did the same routine, spawn, kill some pigs at spawn, get bored then leave, I never had any inspiration to do anything else because I saw no reward in doing so.
