Muhahaha 😂
got it for £5 when it was in the Alpha 😂
Anyway there are plenty of other servers out there that he can play so not really a waste of money 😂

There's this thing... called Single Player I believe.

Works well it does 🤖
