Just a Quick Question

Posted by 117derek - 19 Feb 2013 20:12

If I happened to log back onto the server with an alt or another person's account (I am banned, remember), and somebody found out, would I be banned immediately even if I wasn't doing anything wrong? Just wondering, I don't even have money for another account anyway...

If you get caught, yes, you would be banned. But, we're kinda lenient on alts sometimes, so you never know

Accounts are banned, based on inappropriate actions. Technically speaking, not people. So if you were to come back on another account, and not do anything questionable, there's no reason to re-ban. IMHO.

Good, just remember. Cheating ruins the game experience, for everyone including the user. Let's face it, survival is more fun when you actually have to work for it. Otherwise you will soon get bored of the game.
