

Minecraft update 1.7.2

Posted by Tunes - 29 Oct 2013 20:58

Well folks, there it is, another massive update from Mojang, annnnnd guess what?

Server reset will happen! 🤖

I've been quite away from the community and the server itself, hardly having time to update it and keep it running.

The spawn is a complete crap, yes it is, never seen it so awful, the next one will be a lot smaller and more integrated into the enviroment, simpler and smaller.

Factions rules will change a bit too, into what, don't know atm, still figuring it out.

Whenever there's an update from the bukkit team, the server will be updated too when all the main plugins catch up, until then, it will remain running at 1.6.4 for the time being.

Also, for people who don't see me on facebook, there's been a few changes in my life, got married, and I'm starting up a new project on the local IPTV provider, soo time will be tight, but I will spend more time at the keyboard, instead of managing projects on paper (tired of it), as so, server will get more updates and work done, but I won't be able to join into the game play soon, so I count on our admins and mods to work out something at spawn.

Until then, have fun with 1.6.4, I'll notify when the server will be ready.

Cheers.

Well, went to update the server but it's a no go...

Protocolib fails to load, as so, factions won't load, and running it without factions is really not gonna happen.

For the moment, the server is up and whitelisted.

Cheers

And the other server will be up until the official one works properly.

Well, only two plugins to update, mcore and factions, mcore seems to be delayed... 🙄

Until then, whitelist is on

Im just wondering about the faction plugin, will we still use money with it? Right now the only way to get money is with the "Time Is Money" or selling things to players. This will make it hard to buy land and use warps if there is no other way to get money.

Tunes: BTW, map and inventories will be reset, spawn will be transported (hence I need worldedit) over the new map.

Well apparently my stuff in my inventory stayed... not arguing against it though 🙄
. just giving a heads up.
