So, nothing here??

Lets change that.

Post your bases that belong to you here.

And Rate.

My first game. Includes lots of red-stone wiring, minecart tracks and a huge cave which I got lost in multiple times. It started out as just a natural floating island.

My 2nd house:

It's a basic tower, but I plan on adding a lot more. This is my current. I have not cheated on either.

(Not attached: Library, 2 Observatories, Farm, and a portal to the nether with a bunch of music blocks which play the Mario tune.)

hell yeah you build it block by block. its great because you have to work to make your creation, unlike in some other games like garrys mod, and it gives you a real sense of achievement when you make something. minecraft is awesome.
