See why I do fear those commands, I noticed and started to remove it but then I let be.

Next time, the //undo (with two /) will solve a few problems.

Behave with it or else I'll have it removed, no more warnings mate!

no problem, although id recommend you remove that command. having random balls dotted about the place looks ugly anyway.

Was taking a look at permissions, and undo is given to builders, so please, done a piece of crap with the commands?

//undo

Next time, is complete command removal.
