er... not really, I restarted it and besides being buggy as hell, I had no way to tell I was restarting it... sorry for the event.

Please bear with me, the server is very unstable, updating plugins and stuff. Also the mod api has just been released a few times today, meaning HEAVY work is being done to stabilize the 1.8.1 release.

I know there is a lot of work behind it, keep up the good work!

Well, it did stand up during the night, I can call it quite a victory for such a small time release, there already more updates in mods and plugins, will keep working on it during the day.

Sadly Im experience serious lag on the server from time to time, over 2k ms 🙄

Has that something to do with plugins, bukkit or something cause I never had this bad lag towards it before 1.8
