cant understand why some people would want him unbanned , if he is you may aswell put up a sign on our forum saying " its ok if your a racist prick as long as you apologise " not singling anyone out but i think its a apalling attitude to have , i hope this guy and anyone else that is racist will stay banned . 🙄

i do agree with the perm ban but since tunes did say if he'd come back on with a different skin he could stay so far as i've read he did change it. so my only question is why isn't he unbanned ? i mean we did say that we would unban him if he'd change his skin. even though i agree with the perm we should keep our words. just my few cents on this

Better to have one for player on ours 😊 especially since he has said sorry etc and will hopefully not do it again.

My opinion on this matter is (being the one that banned this person) is that he should now stay banned, the kid came on with a racist skin.. i told him to change it about 10 times and he refused every time, i was in a good mood which is why he wasn't already banned by the 3rd time.. but then after i asked him one last time and warned him he was going to be banned, he then started typing in that "Hail Hitler"... this to me shows he really deserves the perm, not only is he racist but after being told he will be punished for it, he still continues?

See i agree he should stayed banned, at least u warned him so its not like he didnt know and tbh we shouldnt unban him, otherwise we then should unban everyone thats been racist and sed sorry (not that they mean it seeing as they didnt bother to listen) its one rule for all not just for some people!! If u dont want to be bannned its simple follow the rules!
