

Unban Etc etc

User name on minecraft: NeoCopyman

Reason for getting banned: Apparently it was illegal for me to blow up areas in the nether to try and get to a chest.

Tell us what happened: Me and an Unnamed user were screwing around in the nether and we found Wolves nether spawner base thing. I blew some shit up with a bed in an effort to gain access and realized the area with the chest was claimed. Mined around the entire area, till I came to their spawner which was unclaimed. Broke that shit, got stuck in the process, Nuked an unclaimed area, still didn't work, Enderpearl'd my way out and judged the distance to the chest and TNT'd the area somemore. At that point I had to do something IRL so I left the task of getting to the chest up to the Unnamed player. I logged back in the next day and one of the players from Wolves faction expressed his hatred for me for wrecking that base. He said that I was getting a temp ban for destroying his claimed area when the wooden chest was in an Unclaimed area. That, is complete bullshit, since i dug around the claimed area and the chest was in said area.

Why should we unban you: I got temp banned for 2 weeks (Rather harsh) because he claimed that I grieved his base for the hell of it when the chest was in a unclaimed area. As I explained above, The chest was in a claimed area, and that accusation, that I probably should've screen shot, is crap.
