jak200814

X-raying

i believe i should be unbanned because i was not X-raying im an active player and i really love playing on the server i personally think the guy that banned me renadragon hates me for a reason that i don't know by the way he acts around me.

She* and I doubt that. Mods and Admins only ban for a reason and when they're sufficiently sure the person being banned is in the wrong. One of the reasons they're promoted to Mod is because we feel they're responsible, so the accusation that she has a grudge against you and decided to ban you because of it is extremely unlikely. You were obviously doing something or she found something that was proof of X-Ray Jak was told before by Voodoo not to use his xray texture pack. After jak told another player he was using an xray texture pack. Postal and i was on when we were told by his new faction leader that he seemed to be xraying because he was digging straight down to different ores * gold and diamonds*. Postal and i proceeded to watch jak dig to straight to diamond that was covered by 2 layers of lava and could not be seen at all unless you had xray. Also just because you dont see someone doesnt mean they are not there.

i will admit i was using a texture-pack when voodoo told me not to but i wasn't when u banned me that and i always dig strait down. i also want to point out that the texture-pack is only good for finding caves not un open ores

For a start, use the edit button instead of multiple posts.

Secondly, I doubt you'll be unbanned. Not sure whether it's permanent or temporary, but you shouldn't get unbanned. I think it should be temporary/reduced because you did admit it and apologised, but you shouldn't be unbanned because rules are rules.

I was with renadragon when you were banned. We watched you and your actions cannot be explained without the use of some sort of x-ray, material detector or texture pack which allows you to know where certain materials are without seeing them via regular line-of-sight means.

That being said, we witnessed you (first hand) mining in such a matter. And promptly responded to your clear inability to follow the rules.

Well, now that's kind of killed your chances of people being lenient. Enjoy your ban
