

tracking device

Posted by Minecraftwyatt01 - 13 Jan 2013 21:55

Hi shadow has told me he has made a device that can track people down and can show were people are and how far away they are. HE is not joking! I believe this is unfair, because no matter how far away or how secret your base is, he can find you. That is why he is so good at finding people. I hope this problem is taken care of imminently. thank you.

So basically the solution is to . . . download the server in real-time! 🤖
Exactly XD

The device has a certain distance it can go up to but, it shows in the corners were players are and how long they have been i the area. like i said he made it.

Like i said he made the device. I do know the device has a curtain limit to how far it can read, but it shows were players are in the corners and how far away they are.

So it can't find where people are anywhere then does it?

But yeah, it sounds like a hacked client, and I bet he didn't make it, he just claims he did. I'll have a word with him of course it's a hacked client, and as far as I know, seeing the player name while potion invisible is still impossible afaik.

Vanished players is IMPOSSIBLE to find them

There is no way to make a machine ingame on this server to display user coords.

SO

QUIT BS'IN people about it. It's a hacked client, not a machine. there are lots of radar mods and a few others.
