This is probably another dumb thread and you guys are going to make fun of me but I'm saying anyways. Shadow blew up our house and set it on fire for fun. Griefing or nothing?

By the sounds of it this may be griefing BUT once again we cant do anything unless we have co-ordinates. How many times does it need to be said on the forums ?!

Yeah, the problem with people posting their coords on the forums is that is allows them to be raided and grieved even further by other people, what I'd suggest is instead.. them telling us if its their &quot;/home&quot; or their &quot;/f home&quot; or possibly even &quot;/mail&quot; the coordinates to us ingame, that way we can teleport there.

Never said post them on the forums; just that we need them 😊

Anyway, Gracie, after teleporting to your home and logblocking around I noticed that you had no chests around at the time of the attack and therefore the bombardment of your base was a grief, I have banned Shadow343179 for 5 days.

Thankyou for reporting this.
