So was just wondering if there are any activity within the clan (the ones that play 5on5) and if not, r u guys thinking of setting up a new team/starting up again ?

Interested so far:

Den

Liger

M3ntoz

Coolio

Tin

It's a possibility for the future that we might get back into that. But right now, pretty much everyone of our players is inactive except for me but i would hardly call myself active.

If enough people would like to, we could set-up a community team where its not to serious but anyone from the community can join and play
