pretty awesome stuff well you wanted a hint im into graphic design myself so here's 1 peice of constructive criticism you should use a higher bitrate like 16bit and save all of em as png that will really increase the quality as some of them seem really blurry but nice work non the less!

also a personal opinion i would've kept the feet on the parkour but that all comes down to personal taste great work keep em coming!

I agree with liquid saving as JPEG massivly reduces quality.

Anyway, I personally think they're bloody great.

Ive been using photoshop for about 10 years now in my photography company, and I still have NO idea how to graphic design to that extent. Editing photo's is one thing, design is another.

So, congrats on the amazing work.
