No, you've not been waiting

Firstly, you expect people to possess psychic abilities and somehow know you want to join and leave it for (apparently) for a few weeks.

Then, you post message a message in a random forum, again not giving you mc details and are told to post a request here ...

www.twkgaming.com/forum/200-general-disc...access-requests.html

(it's not exactly rocket science)

And now you post again 3 days later Still in the wrong place ... Still no mention of your mc details ...

protective bubble over Tunes

Mini rant over

We should change the minecraft sign up somehow as people join the forum only to get their account activated 😊

And also a donator option so tunes will have to pay less for the server :3

It's a shame - I dont think ppl realise/care how expensive the servers actually are or how much work goes into running them ... So many just expect something for nothing 🙄
