Some of the founder members will remember the saga of my Frostmourne and my 'All Ami wants for Christmas' posts

Every year DS says no 😊

Let me get some wood in the fire...

DS, get the darned thing to your lady 🤔

Seriously, I know, it costs a fortune, but my bet is, it may serve well in two purposes, it will be a lot more valuable, and i case of house thieves, they will shit in their pants!

Haha! I think the latter is what I'm concerned about ... one night come staggering in late from the pub to find Ami on the doorstep, Frostmourne in hand!

Ok, lets make a money bag all of us 🙄

DS, I don't think you'll ever be greeted at home after the pub with it, after all, she'll love you even more if you present her with it! 😊 seriously

DS get it for Ami and she'll love you even more, no risk of meeting her at the doorstep with it in hand!
(More chance of that hapening with a different weapon if you don't get it! 😊)

Plus it means you can go out to the pub knowing she has something to protect herself and the little one should a night raid party be imminent on your fortifications... With the frost damage that thing must have, being an epic weapon and all, they'll be frozen to the spot 😊
