Maybe next time mate! 😊

I "lived" 6 months in Kuurne when I was 19 😊 near the Barco factory as I was in formation there.

It was pretty nice, friday arrived and got drunk, saturday went early morning into the datacenter hosting my machines, installed 4 new ones, later went to the wedding.. got heavily drunk, sunday woke drunk, had a walk around Amsterdam before the flight, got drunk at the airport, got drunk again in the plane, fallen in the plane stairs at lisbon, fallen in the transfer bus while getting out.

Pretty fun (drunken) trip 😊

It was around 12 years I went there to work 1 week in a concert, I don't know why, but I always remember quite little from there.. drunk maybe? and add special smokies to that 🍷

I've been invited to work there 3 times and had to decline, sadly, but I've chosen my daughter in front of (abnormally) high paychecks.

Life choices...

Besides, I'll be going there quite more often, the new machines may require personal attention, and I still have to install a few more hardware at leaseweb.

Until then.. Portugal FTW and all its stupid political crises and money suckers...
