

Absence, time, future

Posted by Tunes - 22 May 2014 23:21

Hello folks, I'm not dead and neither do you 😊

Lots of things have put me away from TwKGaming for a long time, even though, the vanilla mc server still leaves on, curiously without a restart in months 😊

I don't, neither want to promise anything, there is a new site half made, if I find the will power, I'll finish it up a bit more and publish it, if, I find the willpower.

Everything is well, besides a few bruises due to the mountain biking stuff, got a new, very hard, project in my hand in the last 6 months, as usual, Linux related, and pretty big to keep me busy.

Online time is mostly FB, find me there.

Cheers folks! I'll be around.

You all may have forgotten me, but even after being banned for almost 2 years now I think, I haven't forgotten you guys. I kept complaining and complaining and even lying about the ban, even though what I did was wrong. I just wanted a second (third) chance, and you guys were right. I would've xrayed again anyway. But I'm past all that now. I keep coming back to this site every few months, hoping something has happened. Hoping maybe there's a new server that I'm not banned on. Because I really did love that server and everybody on it. Anyway, thanks for the memories, and I will continue to check the site, hoping something happens. Good luck on whatever you decide to do, Tunes.

Hello, the servers are down for like.. almost two years now, don't worry, if sometime in the future they come back again, there will no imported bans.

thanks for passing by, cheers

Still around! 😊
Looking forward to being whitelisted on the new server.

Keep punching 😊
