- being cool/popular. Everyone wants to be it, until you are. (Just remember trying to be cool on purpose, is not cool -.- )

HAHA, well I have been Admin on about 11 servers, I've even owned 3 myself in the past, but the one thing I've noticed, you always want to be an Admin, once you become an Admin, you enjoy it for about 3 weeks, and then it becomes less and less fun, but some days are really good, but if you don't do your job and you slouch around, you will loose your Admin rank and then after you loose it, you go on the server you were Admin on and you just cant help but feel sad and powerless being able to do nothing about those wretched griefers..

anyway, this has never happened to me, the only instance I cant resemble to this is when I lost my Admin rank on a GMod server due to a LUA error in the coding 🤔 haha - That is kinda true, but I do enjoy being an admin.

Being able to actually do something about those griefers is amazing.

However, getting an email/text/steamchat with someone screaming "HACKER!!" at 3am can get annoying, however if im awake, then I break out my banhammer 🤖

Having to get up in the middle of the night , cause someone texts you in panick that the wcs server has gone down...hahaha that's some funny shit 🤖

However, getting an email/text/steamchat with someone screaming "HACKER!!" at 3am can get annoying, however if im awake, then I break out my banhammer

Can't wait to hear more things that I can do to annoy you moo 🤖

Being an admin is like feeling your to sexy to do anything at all 🤖
