

I finally figured out what my name means!

So, as I was randomly browsing the interwebs, I decided to do an ego search on google. So I typed in Zorn, obviously, and found out it is a German family name originating from the word wrath. I then took it to mean in, and found PHEL stood for Physiological Heat Exposure Limit. So my name actually means Wrath in Physiological Heat Exposure Limit. If anyone designs a signature with that (and ponies, obviously) I shall give them a delicious virtual cookie.
