I finally figured out what my name means! Posted by Zorninphel - 01 Aug 2011 18:39

So, as I was randomly browsing the interwebs, I decieded to do an ego search on google. So I tpyed in Zorn, obviously, and found out it is a German family name originating from the word wrath. I then took in to mean in, and found PHEL stood for Physiological Heat Exposure Limit. So my name actually means Wrath in Physiological Heat Exposure Limit. If anyone designs a signature with that (and ponies, obviouisly) I shall give them a delicious virtual cookie.
