

OMG, SLAB CHEATER?

Posted by slaB - 27 Jul 2010 14:56

Got banned from Call of Duting due to "cheating"; and I couldn't not access any COD server at all. And I got the nice ban notification on my Steam profile... I believe most friends believed me when I said I didn't cheat and I appriciate that a lot 😊

I sent a complaint to Activition but I got turned down quite fast and I raged at them...

So yesterday, something strange happened, I played TF2 and when I exited it, a window saying "Share L4D2 with somebody"; popped up and I'm like wtf...? So I gave the version so Gary

I thought it was a crack or a trainer for another game (stored on external HDD) that caused the ban. I also thought it was because I have played on servers infused with cheat, but I read that this was impossible... They thought they would rid the game of cheaters by making the serversystem as it is, but it's just as many cheaters on this crap system compared to dedicated server.
