There is nothing you can do. You will just have to wait untill TWK have restarted their server so it's getting updated (:

It's not only you who can't connect, but it's every person who have installed the recent update, so we will just have to wait untill they restart the server.

Well sorry folks, I won't be able to help with that, I've updated the server core system files, but I'm unable to update the mods as I have no knowledge about them...

I was taking a look into the wcs mod site, looks like they don't have it ready too... so folks, I ask for patience, we'll update asap.
