I never stoped playing TF2 because it had annoying players. I stoped playing because the search for servers interface is awful and most servers do a mix of gametypes. And my old school prefere CTF over all else..wich makes it annoying to switch server each time they change mode..

just on a side note. this was in the tf2 news on steam and i found it to be VERY good, especially if you like queen, which I do. it also makes complete sense.

When you said queen I knew it was going to be that song 🤔 and that was without looking at the title.
