i doubt it will be a proper sequel as much as a remake reskin with alittle editing, ill look at it but i dont expect it to be anything like the css we knew and loved (or should be)

Ok, this thing enters the dangerous field of expectations, I only noticed this now, new characters, maybe more teams and redrawn models, maybe a story with missions and stuff, am I a noob to ask if CSS had any story line, like halflife.

Looks like the wait will be long, lets try to bring some news into this thread!

(I'm on vacations, the little time at the kbd are taken by server care)

No Tunes, theres no story in css i think, not that i can remember. and this new cs:go will focus mostly on matches it said. guess we just have to wait and see what its like
