

Allods Online

I can highly recommend this game to ppl who like MMOs but dont want to pay to play 😊

I really like the races and the gameplay is a bit like WoW but better. For example Summoners pets have different looks depending on spell lvl and wich race you play. But I have only reached lvl 8 and the max is 45 something. But I dont know how its endgame is and havnt tried pvp yet.

I play on the server ISA as Empire, if any are intrested 😊

This is an early vid, cause the character creation is alot different now in options etc.

m3ntoz you always have to pay for a so called f2p game there's always content you will need to unlock etc etc, to be fair with you playing a game like WoW is actually cheaper to pay for then this is lol

So far what I have noticed, this game aint as restricted in what you cant do. If you plan to go endgame raiding and stuff you need to pay for some stuff..

But casual gaming is almost unaffected..the only limit you have is that you can only have 1 proff and you can unlock the second proff slot by rep if you dont wanna pay.

And if I saw correctly they have several options for payment includings sponsored and ads..

It won't be more than wow because you may monthly for wow whereas you will probs pay one for the extra content in that game
