Diablo 3 is now out, looks pretty fun 😊
anyone else thinking about getting it?

40£ is nothing! I paid 95€ for my copy! 😊

But my instant love for the witch doctor has turned into distaste as it has the same problems as the necromancer in D2, minions die too easy and has too long cooldown 😊

So I play hardcore female barbarian atm and a Demon hunter on normal.

In D2 there was no problem with the minions 😊 you just had to spend more than one point in each skill 😊
you wouldn't spend loads in different trees

One of the things in all Diablos, was to evolve first a single tree instead of growing all of them, choose the best tricks and evolve them, the game usually starts to get more interesting after the 30th level.

There are no trees in D3 and no point spending. You unlock skills at certain levels and runes which improve or change how those skills behave. On normal, minions lack of use is no problem as you can die as many times as you like, but on hardcore..you DIE!
