And there's 6 other songs in the EP, along with those above!

Yes, I also see Corridor Digital, however I like electronica (basically, is all I hear) dubstep is hard to mix in my ears, maybe that will change, however its an awesome sound if you want to break everything in the house 🏠

That can only happen if you have a decent subwoofer though, and they're sodding expensive. All I can use is bassy headphones or earphones because as a student I can't afford a subwoofer 🤔

They're at it again 🤔
remixing Deadmau5 this time (gutsy, but I think they pull it off)

Unfortunately, I'm starting to feel that the sounds and synths sound the same all the time :/ still good at it though.

Anywhore, here's the song:
