Hmm, i dont like this band, because there songs are about the second world war -.-

Stukas were the combat aircraft of the nazis and i think Feindflug makes fun of it, and it sounds a bit like nazi music or rasist music (sorry about that, but i think so) do u know what the songs are about?

I dont know exactly what they sing but I do know what Stukas are

I dont listen to racists music either so when I first heard this band I reasearched it heavily and found out that they want you you to know what happend during WW2 as a sad thing that shouldnt be repeated. They even have the text "Use your brain and think about it" during live shows. But Im guessing many nazi/racists listen to this kind of music because they dont understand that. Just as many listen to Rammstein because its a famous German band
