

Good none english music!!

This group won SAMA 2007(South African Music Awards) for best rock album. Hopefully they will include a hard rock or metal category next time. Cause this is not Rock 😊

Swaar Metaal means Heavy Metal in Afrikaans, wich is also the language they sing in.

I saw them live the second day of MCF 2008 and love them.

The singer thanked Alice Cooper for opening for them and apologized that the audience had to wait so long for them to get on stage. (Cooper was the last artist the day before and Kobus! opened the day after 😊)

Mainly non english texts, but in this case also that there are some really good bands where you least expect it. I like when bands succeed outside their country in their native tongue even though they dont sing in english, spanish or any other "major" laanguages. Rammstein is a good example too but german is a pretty well know language around the world.

Sounds great, although its really not rock.

Another one, from Portugal

Xutos e Pontapés, 30 years of career, ordered "Comendadores" (the same as "Sir" in England)

They are the biggest band ever in Portugal (and you can see by the amount of ppl seeing them...)

No it isnt, the thing is that the SAMA doesnt have any Metal or even Hard rock. So thats why they won as best Rock group. There where no where else to put them.

One could also ask why is heavy metal not rock ofc... 🤔

It depends on the ears i think, mind you Deep Purple were heavy metal when they started... at least for the ppl at the time, now best rock band ever.

Good point, like modern R'n'B. It has nothing with the old music anymore.

Music change over time and ppls need to put a label on everything will never change.

Rammstein is the worst band ever, they're just punks trying to be americans.

Big Bang, Norwegian band, a track from their new album, Isabel:

open.spotify.com/track/36Z0KWwYglxlzjBVvdh2kS" onclick=">window.open(this.href);return false;

(If you find the start boring for some weird reason, you can go and die or go to 02:20)

And Satyricon is also quite good (also Norwegian), but it's only some of the tracks that is worth listening to.

My fav summerband with the best summermusic:

Lyrics on this one is quite funny, but it's Norwegian so... 🤔

You are now on my black list (again... lol)

How dare you say Rammstein is the worst band ever?????

And I cant understand the "trying to be american", its the exact opposite...

But that does it... prepare for some admin wrath when you have a computer... 🙄

Im 100% behind Vagon on this!!
