

Panoramic HDR works

Posted by Tunes - 03 Jan 2011 11:49

Hello folks, I've been doing some panoramic HDR works, so this is my gallery with what I have atm.

The photos are excellent - especially like Jardim de Belém. 🍷

Going to show the wife right now!

Thanks DS, now due to my latest pc upgrade (Core i7 3066Mhz, 12Gb ram, dual SSD intel 80Gb) I will be producing a lot more detailed panos, with higher resolutions, they will be shown only in gigapan, as I want to cross the Gigapixel barrier and go for higher flights 🍷

Those in my gallery are HDR panos, each section takes 5 pictures with different exposures and lots of computing around them, I also had a problem with a very dirty ccd, I've taken care of it and the pictures should come better too.

Also thinking into the new Alpha 580 🍷

The Jardim de Belém one, is my first "decent" hdr pano, although is missing some final touches, I will be making a new one very soon when the sky clears, as on the last month, Lisbon is London themed 🤔

Also take a closer look into the Santa Cruz airplane, the white citroen are my wheels 🤔
